PRICE ONE CENT.

EVENING EDITION.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1887.

EVENING EDITION.

YALE IS KING!

Is a happy young male,

LOOK OUT, TOM PLATT!

f He Isn't Very Careful He Will Lose His

Grip on the Republican Party. 'If Tom Platt is not careful," said a Republican statesman at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, "he will lose his grip on the party in this State. His influence

SAVED FROM THE SCHOLTEN.

More Missing Passengers Accounted for by the Steamship's Agents.

At the office of the Netherlands-American

Steamship Company a cablegram was received this morning, by Agent Van den Toon, correcting the list of passengers of the wrecked steamship W. D. Scholten, and saying that the following of that number have been saved: Henry Kenyon, Gustav Bromonsky, Hermann Huseler, Gustav Will, Weide.

It is also stated that the W. A. Scholter

It is also stated that the w. A. School will be blown up, as the vessel as she now is little impedes navigation and as there is little chance of raising her. The mails have been recovered. It is probable that the Scholten's passengers will be brought to this city on the passengers will be brought to this city on the steamer P. Caland, of the same line, which leaves Rotterdam to-day.

The father and the brother of Henry Kenyon called at the steamship office this morning and inquired when the Leerdam would arrive, as they expected Henry on that ship. They were told that Henry was one of the Scholten's passengers, and word had just been received that he was among the saved.

Freedom for the Water-Tank.

Ex-Judge Dittenhoeffer asked Judge Barrett

rano, owner of the play 'Donna Blanca," restraining Charles B. Jefferson, Henry S. Taylor and James Nugent, proprietors of 'Tae Dark Secret," from exhibiting the water-tank scene at the Academy of Music. He raised the point that If it was an infringement of copyright the case was one for the Federal courts. The case was dismissed.

Hanging in Colorado, a Pine Here.

Charles Bryan was in such a Thanksgiving mood yesterday that, seeing a saddled horse standing

Grabedunkel's Watch Grabbed.

Henry Grabedunkel, coal-dealer at Jane and West streets, had so nice a Thanksgiving afternoon that he fell asteep in his office. When he swoke lay to dismiss the injunction obtained by Eisle Ser-

And a happy young male is he.

He's great at the oar,

At the bat he's more,

And football's his jambores

Young King Yale

PRICE ONE CENT.

A JERSEY JUSTICE ARRESTED.

THE GREAT CRISIS IN FRANCE.

GREVY'S MESSAGE NOT READY AND NOTHING SETTLED ABOUT A NEW MINISTRY.

Somebody Started a Rumor That the President Might Back Out After All-Germany in Looking for the Men Who Forged Prince Bismarck's Name to the Communication to the Czar.

IMPECIAL CABLE TO THE WORLD.

PARIS, Nov. 25 .- Many persons went to the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon under the fixed impression that the message from M. Grevy announcing his resignation would be read to Parliament. But the first news which reached us on entering the Salle des Pas Perdus, which was to-day as crowded and animated as ever, was that the Presidential message was not ready, that nothing was yet settled with respect to the Ministry and that nothing of a definite character would probably be known before to-morrow at the earliest. Then the strange rumor ran through the hall that M. Grevy might after all back out and make one more desperate attempt to remain at the Elysee. Several of the President's friends had gone about contradicting M. Henry Maret's account of the famous interview of yesterday and one of them actually declared that M. Grevy had formally authorized him to say that the Radical Deputy had misunderstood him and that he had not yet arrived at any positive decision. You may well imagine the sensation which these denials produced and the comments to which they gave rise. There was a general roar at the bare notion that the President might once more have changed his mind. He has vacillated very often of late. But this was regarded as really too strong, and while some believed that there might be some foundation for the story, others, and they were in the majority, expressed the opinion that after what had occurred M. Grevy would never have the face to retract. It had been reported insidiously that M. Maret had proceeded to the Elysee on his own initiative; but this afternoon he informed us that M. Duhamel, who was formerly the President's Secretary, had called on him and expressly invited him to confer with M. Grevy. Soon, however, the effect produced by the assertions of M. Grevy's friends was removed, people coming round to the opinion that this was only a false alarm, and that the President's resignation could be regarded in the light of an accomplished fact. M. Ribot had been to the Elysee and had been asked by M. Grevy if in the event of his deciding on the formation of a new Cabinet he would assist him. "Certainly," M. Ribot replied on the understanding that the message announcing the President's resignation should be promptly forthcoming. But M. Ribot strongly advised him to consult M. Rouvier and his colleagues, and to sound them as to whether they had not best remain in office until the Congress for the election of the new President had assembled at Versailles. This the President promised to do.

A CAUSE CELEBRE IN PROSPECT.

The Persons who Forged Prince Bismarck's

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE WORLD.] Berlin, Nov. 25 .- The chief topic of conversation is the revelation of the Cologne Gazette concerning the forged letter shown to the Czar. In club and saloon everybody speculates upon the personages aimed at and it is generally believed that we have a "cause celebre" in prospect. The most singular part of the whole affair is the reticence of official circles on the subject, though there is no doubt as to the genuineness of the revela tion. A few days hence more light may be thrown on the matter. When the Czar was in Berlin he told Prince Bismarck frankly what he had heard. Whereupon the Chancellor replied: "Your Majesty, if anybody has laid such a note before you, as coming from me, you have been deceived. I have

It is believed that since the Czar left Berlin the originals have been shown to Prince Bismarck. Hence the passage threatening legal proceedings. But who are the culprits? Some say that if Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria and his mother are implicated they must have been themselves merely dupes of others. Perhaps with more justice, some attribute the whole thing to Panslavistic machinations, whilst others again imagine that this matter has been pushed into the foreground in order to detract attention from elsewhere. At any rate the guilty persons, whoever they are, will be thoroughly unmasked before long.

never written anything like it, nor has any

Ambassador of ours ever reported anything of the kind."

Two Men and a Horse Killed.

NEWTON, Nov. 25. - Charles and Patrick Hannon of Cochituate, were killed instantly last night while trying to cross the truck of the Boston and Albany road here, by the 6.15 train for Worcester, with tw companions. It is thought all were intoxicated. They tried to cross the track notwithstanding the signals. The horse was also killed and the carriage was smashed to splinters. The other men were seriously injured.

Peter Burkehart's Will Dissolved.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
VINCENNES, Nov. 25.—Peter Burkehart, an old farmer, of Pike County, worth $25,000, left a will distunctiting half of his sons. Burkehart murdered his wife in July in a fit of frenzy and then killed himself. The disappointed hers contested the will and secured a verdict to-day in the Pixe County Circuit Court dissolving the testament.

Rabbi Frey Returns to Wabash.

(SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.)
WARREN, Ind., Nov. 25.—Habbi Sigmund Frey, who ned Tuesday to avoid meeting his wife, re turned yesterday on the advice of Isaac M. Wise, of Cincinnati. The congregation will not allow him to preach any more at the synagogue.

Postmasters After More Money. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

PITTSBURG, Nov. 25. -The third and fourth class Postmasters of the Twenty-fourth Congressional District are holding a convention to-day to secure SAD DAY FOR MONONGAHELA MINERS. Nothing but Bread for Thanksgiving Dinner and No Work as Yet in Sight.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] PITTSBURG, Nov. 25.-The gray blue of rain and mist which hung over the Monongahela Valley yesterday morning carried little cheer into the households of 2,000 unemployed coal miners. The condition of these workers is extremely bad, and while cases of absolute destitution are not frequent, yet there are few miners from Eliza beth to the head of the Monongahela who have not accumulated a debt which will take at least three months' steady work to liquidate.

On the 12th day of June, when the last spring run was made, there were fully 6,000 miners employed in the banks. They were all contented and their prospects brighter than for some years. To-day there are scarcely 2,000 left, and many of these are scarcely 2,000 left, and many of these are going away.

The enforced idleness which began on that June day has continued without integmission ever since and hard times have put their stamp on the hillsides to the end of the fourth pool. Most of these who had moved away were among the unmarried men who scattered everywhere in search of employment. At this time married men are also moving their families and household effects, many coming to town and finding work wherever they can, although in a number of instances they have returned to their old homes disappointed in their search.

The Thanksgiving dinner eaten by most of them yesterday was hardly equal to prison fare and in some houses consisted of only dry bread.

fare and in some houses consisted of only dry bread.

The general rains of yesterday are expected to result by Monday in a coalboat rise and consequent relief of the famine down the Ohio. Every one of the leading river coal offices is full of interested men, and as each despatch comes in giving accounts of the rainfall at the different up-river points of observation, feelings of satisfaction are expressed openly. The possibility of liberating the 10,000,000 bushels now held in the river makes the miners jubilant. In twenty years there has not been so much distress among the Monongahela miners as prevails now, almost all caused by the low water, for the coal trade has been freer from industrial trouble this year than any its history.

"BLINKY" MORGAN IN COLUMBUS JAIL. To Be Hanged on March 16 for the Murder of Detective Hulligan.

ISPECIAL TO THE WORLD. COLUMBUS, Nov. 25. -Blinky Morgan, the notorious crook and one of the murderers of Detective Hulligan, of Cleveland, at Ravenna, O., last February, for which he is under sentence to hang on March 16 next, was brought tence to hang on March 16 next, was brought here yesterday evening and placed in the department for the condemned. His removal was kept secret because it was feared an attempt to rescue him would be made. Morgan wore a smile, but it was forced. He was elegantly dressed and looked like a clergyman. To the Warden, who said carelessly, "Well, you have come to stay with us a while," he said: "Yes, if you insist on it," and laughed. Morgan is the only occupant of the condemned department, but murderer Roth, of Wooster, who is under sentence to hang the same day, will soon arrive. Morgan is regarded as the most desperate and accomplished criminal ever held inside the Ohio State Prison.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S TRAIL OF BLOOD.

Was Granewald's Body Thrown Over a Cliff

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 25 .- At the Coroner's inquiry to-night concerning the mysterious death of Leonard Grunewald, George Sabone will testify that on the morning of the finding of Grunewald's body he discovered a trail of blood on Burnet street, leading to the cliff over which it is believed Grunewald was thrown. Large spots of blood were also found on the sidewalks east of Grover's alley, where Grunewald's hat was

This evidence will open a new clue, on which the police are quietly at work.

Judge Trunkey's Critical Condition.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
PITTSBURG, Nov. 25.—From private advices it ppears that the iliness of Hon. John Trunkey, of the Pennsylvania Supreme Bench, is critical. Early last spring Mr. Trunkey went to London England, where he has since been undergoing treatment for eaterth, from which disease he has long been a suffere. From a letter received from Mrs. Trunkey, who joined her husband in England a short time ago, the information is obtained that at a consultation of physicians it was decided to remove a portion of the bone from the nose of the patient, an operation considered very dangerous, with the chances about even as to the patient's recovery. England, where he has since been undergoing Miners Could Not Spare Time to Eat.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
SCHAMTON, Nov. 25. —Thanksgiving Day was oberved by the closing of business places generally of the city. For the first time in many years there was no cessation of work at the coal mines, each of which was worked to its fullest capacity up to 6 o'clock. Both of the steel mills were in full operation, large orders on hand for immediate filling making it necessary to deny the men even a half-holiday.

It was Not a Case of Arson.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—A despatch from Joliet says that the verdict in the case of the California Insurance Company against the Lambert & Bishop Wire Fence Company, for the recovery of insurance losses, is that the pisintiff had no cause of action. Charges of arean were preferred by White, in the employ of the wire company, who claimed to have done the firing at the order of his employers. This ends the case and White will be prosecuted for partitive.

Knifed at a Church Festival.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Nov. 26. -William Hall, 2 colored man in the employ of Edward Sweet, proprictor of a livery stable here, was stabbed in the left breast in Mount Zion A. M. E. Church during a festival held there last night by another colored man, whose name he has not as yet made known. It is thought that an arrest will be made this after-

Married at Milburn.

MILBURN, N. J., Nov. 25. -Mr. John Fisher, of Milburn, and Miss Maggie McCluskey, of Union, were married in St. Rose's Church last evening by the Rev. D. F. McCarthy, Miss Mamie Dempsey, of Union, acted as bridesmald and Mr. Joseph Horan, of Milburn, as best man. After the ceromony Mr. and Mrs. Fisher left for a trip to Boston. They will live in Milburn.

Telegraphic Brevities.

Buppalo, Nov. 22.—William Lester, the song-and-dance man, was married yesterday to Misa annie Hart, the serio-comic actress.

ATLANTA. Nov. 25.—"Yellowstone Kit," a patent-medicine vender, has taken the stump for the wes ticket, and it looks as if he was going to be the Moses of the anti-Prohibitionists.

MOST'S LINE OF DEFENSE.

LAWYER HOWE SAYS THAT NOT ONLY HE, BUT LIBERTY ALSO, IS ON TRIAL.

Plenty of Anarchists Listen to the Openin of His side of the Case-The Boss Revo-Intionist in a New Cont-To Take the Stand Himself-Comparisons of His Acts with Charlotte Corday's Murder of Marat.

ERR MOST, second ing to a high Anarchistic authority, has the munificent salary of $10 per week as editor of Die Freiheit, "if everything goes well." As the editor is exceedingly unostentatious, even frugal, in his manner of living, esting, drinking and sleeping in the Freiheit office, he has considerable surplus to devote to dress. This probably accounts for the new black beaver overcoat which he wore into the Court of General Sessions this morning. He was exactly on time, thus preceding the rest of the participants in his trial for misdemeanor by ten minutes. These minutes were improved by him as usual in reading a copy of THE WORLD, which was carefully selected from a bundle of a dozen morning papers.

Notwithstanding the suggestion of Coun sellor Howe on Wednesday evening, that possibly he would decide it to be unnecessary to call any witnesses for the defense, Most's friends were in the ascendant in court, fifty of the long-haired and short-pursed people who attended the Kraemer Hall memorial meeting being present with subponas. Mrs. Ida Hoffman, Most's Anarchistic haired hondswomen graced the sead of the sead chistic-haired bondswoman, graced the scene with her presence.

Counsellor Howe's silver hair was combed straight up from his high brow in the correct Anarchistic style, but the blood-red rose, the flaming necktie and other signs of his sanguinary nature displayed on other days were gone.

Mr. Howe recalled Detective Sachs and made him reaffirm [that Schwenck, who was convicted with Most and Braunschweig on the other occasion, presided and introduced Most to the Kraemer Hall meeting. Schwenck was called in from an ante room and the officer identified him. Schwenck; a small, mild-looking man of thirty-five years of age.

Mr. Howe began his address to the jury at Mr. Howe began its address to the jury at 11.20. He said:

Herr Most is not on trial. It is freedom of speech that is on trial. A courageous jury will pass upon the maudim uterance of that man (pointing to the not agreeable, crooked countenance of Most) before an audience made up of men and women whose ideas can never be accepted by you or any of us. There is something dearer to us, to every citizen, than anything else we possess. Charlotte Corday, having read the Bible story of Judith, who drove the nati into the head of the tyrant, went to the bath of the tyrant Marat and drove a sword into this heart. I do not compare John Most to her, but his heart. I do not compare John Most to her, but he had a right to criticise the hanging of the Anarchists of Chicago; but Liberty is on trial how as then, and justice is to be administered by you. No Charlotte Corday will be necessary here.

I shall show you that Schwenck took no more purt in that meeting than you or I. I shall show you that Officer Sachs was not at that meeting at all. I shall show you that Herr Most wrote a denial of the truth of the report of his remarks as printed in the papers next day, and said it had been done to get him into trouble.

Attention thus directed to Most, the "wop-11.20.

Attention thus directed to Most, the "wop-per-jawed" little man blinked his little rest-less eyes and the muscles of his face twitched in virtuous nervous agitation.

Mr. Howe went on, after sundry pretty compliments to Mr. Nicoll, who has held his own admirably in the running fire of wit and badinage which has been kept up during the trial, never once losing his head nor his

I shall put on the stand another reporter who took stenographic notes of Mosvis remarks and who knows something of German and of the French Revolution. Last of all I shall put Herr Most on the stand. We have no secrets to keep, gentlemen. I lift up the curtain (lifting an imaginary curtain with both hands outstretched). He will tell you of his beliefs and disbeliefs.

disheliefs.

He will tell you that he predicted a social revolution; that it was coming; that it was hastened by what he considered to be a four-fold murder at Chicago. We shall show that when an enthusiast in the audience cried out "Why not to-alignt?" Most raised his hand and said, "No! Not to-night! Patience! Have patience."

said, "No! Not to-might! Fatence! Have pa-tience!"

Understand me! I yield to none in demand-ing obedience to the law. But I will not concede the right of Anthony Comstock to be the censor of what is right and what is wrong in art. What rule shall be observed by the masters of art in depicting in all its glory the human form. Shall the Knoedlers be made the victim of such an absurd law? No! Forever Fanatic and fool as I believe he is, Most is in your bands, and you are to pronounce judgment upon his acts.

Providence's Mayer Dangerously Sick. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

PROVIDENCE, R. L. Nov. 25, -Mayor Robbins lies dangerously sick at his residence this morning. The news has created intense excitement, and fatal result, which is not considered improbable, would take the Republican candidate out of the Mayoraty. In the three-cornered fight last week Robbins falled of a majority, and the contest will

An Assault Followed by Shooting.

ispectal to the world. I Vineyard Haven, Mass., Nov. 25.—Ryan O'Brien, an employee of R. W. Crocker, made an assault on W. W. Douglass, a prominent hardware dealer, last night while intoxicated. Douglass shot O'Brien in self-defense, the ball passing through his thigu. He may live.

Tips from "The World's" Ticker. The sales of stocks up to noon to-day aggregated

A. E. Hateman and a party of friends are absent on a Southern tour. The stock market to-day opened feverish, but the list soon strengthened.

The list became firm during the first hour, with Northern Pacific preferred and Oregon Trans-continental the favorites. Reports say that the Aichison road is crowded to its utmost capacity and that a blockade of freigh and coal cars has taken place at El Paso.

There have been no new developments in the Richmond Terminal matters to-day. Nothing but routine business was done at the recent meeting. The announcement that Sidney Dillon has taken the Presidency of the Oregon Transcontinental Company, as predicted in these columns, in piace of Elijah Smith, has renewed confidence in that

Vice-President Bond, of the St. Paul, Vice-Freenent Bond, of the St. Faul, returned last high from a month's inspection of the road. He reports that the condition of the road is prosperous, and that the increase of the carnings for the third week in November will be between $60,000 and $70,000 above that for the same period last year. The road has added no new mileage thus far, but the Kansas City freight line will be opened next week.

HER FATHER GOT A PISTOL.

A Forty-five-Year-Old Tailor Accused of Kidnapping His Old Friend's Dangbter.

Peter Quinn, a tailor, employed in St. Joseph's Institute, Westchester County, was taken to Jefferson Market Police Court this morning. It is supposed that he is the abductor of Rosana Campbell, a girl fifteen years old, who has been missing from her since Oct. 30.

The girl lived with her father, James Campbell, a tailor, at No. 302 Seventh avenue. The night upon which she was last seen she left her home with her cousin, Mamie Sullivan, of 112 Place street, Greenpoint. Both girls walked to Thirty-fourth street and Sixth avenue. Mamie remembers to have seen Quinn, who is a man forty-five years of age, in that neighborhood. She knew Quinn, as he had been a member of the family for-fifteen years.

fifteen years.

Mamie left Rosana to go to her home in Greenpoint. She crossed the ferry alone and, on reaching the other side, was astonished to see Rosanna and Quinn getting into a Calvary Cemetery car together. That was the last seen of the girl. Last night Quinn called at the house of Mr. Campbell, and told the father that he did not know anything about where her daughter was. Campbell had him arrested on a charge of kidnapping. The accused told the policeman that he had a letter from the girl to her father telling him that she was all girl to her father telling him that she was all right.

The father said that Quinn was at one time a frequent visitor at the house and paid particular attention to Rosana. On July 4. 1886, she was left in the house alone. Quinn called and after he left he did not call again for three weeks. Mr. Campbell was told by Mrs. Thompson, a colored servant in the house, that there was something wrong going on. After this the father armed himself with a pistol and vowed that he would be revenged. When Quinn returned to the house he was ordered to leave if he valued his life. To Justice Duffy, Quinn said he knew nothing about the whereabouts of the girl. He was remanded:

EVACUATION DAY.

Mostly Forgotten Except by the Old Guard and the Veterans.

The Stars and Stripes and the Municipal flag are flying over the City Hall again today. The celebration of the 104th anniverday. The celebration of the 104th anniversary of the evacuation of New York by the British has been neglected or overshadowed this year by the more national celebration of the annual Thanksgiving for the good which has befallen the country.

| Assault. Two of the theatre attendants bathed Mr. Gilmore's face and bound his silk handker-chief over his forehead. Then Deputy Sheriff John Bermingham, of 121 Crosby street, one of the friends who accompanied him into the bar, and the wanter into the wanter into the wanter into the bar, and the wanter into the want has befallen the country.

In this city, where of all places it should be commemorated, the event will be celebrated quietly by the older military organibrated quietly by the older military organizations, the Old Guard making the biggest demonstration. The Old Guard's "At Home" cards have been issued, and the respect to demonstration. The Old Guard's "At Home" cards have been issued, and the respect to the resp conviviality and yarn-spinning by these osoldiers at their meeting place in the Bo ery.

RIOTOUS HOUNDS ON STATEN ISLAND.

Destruction Wrought by Thanksgiving Ex cursionists from Brooklyn.

A target company called "The Hounds," and hailing from the Eighteenth Ward of Brooklyn, visited Silver Lake Park at Tompkinsville, S. I., yesterday, and after shooting, sat down to dinner. When the beer began to operate, turkeys, meats, butter, bread, pickles, dishes, cups and saucers were thrown around promiseuously.

Looking-glasses and doors were broken and a general riot seemed imminent. The pro-prietor and his assistants were unable to quell the disturbance.

the disturbance.

The police were notified and Inspector Cobb, with six patrolmen, appeared on the ground. "The Hounds," numbering about one hundred, were ordered from the park and under police escort were conducted to the ferry at St. George. No arrests were

Dr. Hugert's Saicide.

Coroner Levy will make further investigation this atternoon concerning the suicide of Dr. Alexander Hugert, a well-known physician, who shot himself through the right temple with a s2-calibre revolver at 4.15 p. m. yesterday. The suicide of Rochard Stall, a nephew, the death of his daughter and his son-in-law, all within the space of two years, produced a great change in the mental con-dition of the doctor, and of late he had been under the care of two physicians, who described his dis-ease as acute melancholla. ease as acute melancholla.

A Murdered Woman's Estate Sold. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]

NEWARE, Nov. 25 -The Garrity estate in frarrison was sold at public sale Wednesday afternoon. There was a large number of people present, It There was a large Peter Hauck for $3,460. This was finally sold to Peter Hauck for $3,460. This recalls the murder three years ago of Widow Garrity, who lived alone in her cottage. The mur-derer has never been caught, but part of a railroad from was found in the room wrapped in a copy of The World, covered with blood.

There will be 259 immigrants landed at Castle Garden to-day. The State of Nevada brings 253 from Glasgow, the Lessing 398 from Hamburg and the City of Chester 518 from Liverpool. The sudden death of Mrs. M. E. Crooker, wh lived alone in a furnished room at 252 West Fit teenth street, was reported at the Coroner's offic to-day.

Henry Smith, of Tenth avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-fith street, a driver for Yuengling's brewery, fell from his wagon at Sixth avenue and Clinton place this morning, and broke his left leg. About $300 damage was done to John Rinald's barber shop, at 45 Madison street, at about 4 1. M. to-day. The police do not know how the first started. There was some alarm among the tenants, out no one was injured.

The new church edifice of the parish of Saint Edward-the-Marryr, One Hundred and Ninth street, near Fifth avenue, will be opened next Bunday. The first service will be celebration of Holy Communion at S A. M.

GILMORE BADLY USED UP.

AND-TUMBLE FIGHT.

The Manager of Niblo's Garden Gets an Ugly Gush on this Forehead and Loses Some of His Hair in a Scrimmage in the Barroom of the Metropolitan Hotel—The Barkeeper Arrested on Two Charges.

during the first two acts of Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle" last evening. He had judicifootball team, and the news of the victory had put him in a good humor.

He gathered two or three of his friends together during the intermission between the second and third acts and strolled into the bar of the Metropolitan Hotel.

tween the manager and John J. Ryan, an assistant in the wine room.

Mr. Gilmore came out of the fight with a gash across his forehead which will mark bim for life. It was caused by his being thrown violently, face forward, against the edge of the marble-topped and before I knew what had hap-pened the two men were struggling all over the room. I threw myself between them, but could not separate them. Ryan struck first, I believe, and then Mr. Gilmore's blood was up. He wanted to hit Ryan as badly as Ryan wanted to hit him. Ryan was drunk and wanted to pick a quarrel. That was the whole cause of it. I will not say what was the offensive remark which he made at first, but. I assure you, it was entirely uncalled ing drunk and disorderly.

A certificate from D. Quackenboss stating that Mr. Gilmore's injuries were so serious that he was confined to his bed and that he remark to me; I had made no onensive remark and I said so, but he pushed me hard and said if I did not get out he would put me out. We had some words and he struck me on the mouth. I fell against the bar and hurt my head. See this."

He showed the reporter an ugly wound on the head.

"This made me very mad," he continued,
"This made me very mad," he continued, haired man, fifty years of age, less powerfully built than Ryan. It is his intention to pun-ish his assailant as severely as the law will allow.

A BARKEEPER ENGAGES HIM IN A ROUGH-

Edward G. Gilmore, the popular manager of Niblo's Garden, lounged behind the stage ously placed a snug little sum on the Yale

According to reliable persons very little wine was drunk by Mr. Gilmore or his friends, but in the course of the next half hour a sanguinary encounter took place be-

bar. He had many scratches and bruises on his face and hands, and some of his gray hair was torn out by the roots. The lobe of his left ear was almost bitten through by Ryan and he had also been badly bitten on the right hand.

The utmost efforts of the bystanders could not searche the ween until the fight had.

The utmost efforts of the bystanders could not separate the men until the fight had lasted nearly a minute and the mischief was done. When Policeman Hunter, of the Mulberry street station, entered the barroom, being attracted by the shouts of the combatante and bystanders, he found the two men struggling flercely. Byan had one hand on the manager's throat and with the other he was trying to tear out more of Mr. Gilmore's hair. Hunter struck Ryan with his club and dragged him off to the station-house, Mr. Gilmore charging him with an unprovoked assault. assault.

street, one of the friends who accompanied him into the bar, put the manager into a cab and drove to the house of Dr. H. J. Quackenboss, 19 West Eighteenth street. His wounds were properly dressed, and he was then taken to his rooms at the Hotel Brunswick and put to hed.

jority in the Senate and holds on to the office of Guarantine Commissioner.

"Let me tell you something. You know that Senator Low was Platt's choice for President pro tem. of the last Senate. Senator Pitts was elected President pro tem. If Low was good enough for Platt two years ago, why is he not Platt's choice now? But he isn't. From what I can hear. Platt wishes Senator Fassett elected President pro tem. Senator Low's friends are very angry and are rebellions. If Platt does not fix up a compromise on this President pro tem. business, there's going to be a nice row among his former supporters."

the offensive remark which he made at first, but, I assure you, it was entirely uncalled for by any conduct on Mr. Gilmore's part. Mr. Gilmore did not know Ryan until afterwards, for his first remark after Ryan was dragged off by the policeman was: 'Who is this man, anyhow? I don't know him. What is his name?'

"Mr. Gilmore is rather peculiar in his ways and he may have given previous offense to Ryan in some way, but he did not know it. I have heard that Ryan was once in a higher position in the hotel and that he cherished a grudge against Mr. Gilmore.

Rysn was arraigned before Judge Patterson at the Essex Market Court this morning. Policeman Hunter made an affidavit that Mr. Gilmore charged the man with assault. The policeman on his part charged Ryan with being drunk and disorderly.

that he was confined to his bed and that he would not be able to appear for several days. Judge Patterson then committed Ryan in $500 for examination Sunday morning.

Ryan is a powerfully built man, thirty-two years old. He is unmarried, and he lives at Ryan is a powerfully built man, thirty-two years old. He is unmarried, and he lives at 806 East Twenty-fifth street. He did not say a word when at the bar, but afterwards spoke to a Wosho reporter as follows: "Mr. Gilmore struck me first, and if the men who saw the affair were not such cowards they would tell the truth in my favor. I suppose they are afraid for their positions. Mr. Gilmore is a rich man and I am a poor one. I suppose he will drive me to the wall.

"My day's work ends at 8 o'clock in the evening, and I have to turn in my book to the cashier every night. I went upstairs at about 9.39 o'clock and put in my book at the bar. I wished the cashier good night and was turning away when I came close up to Mr. Gilmore. He said: 'Did you address that remark to me?' I had made no offensive remark and I said so, but he pushed me bard

"This made me very mad," he continued,
"and I went into the fight for all I was worth. The policeman clubbed me, and every one seemed to be against me. I had never had any trouble with Mr. Gilmore before, and did not want to quarrel with him."
Kyan got bail at the station-house last night, and his bondsman continues to be answerable for him.
George Staygan, manager of the wineroom, told the reporter that Ryan, who had been in his employ a vear and a half, was a quiet and industrious man. He said that Ryan had been drinking yesterday but was not drunk.

alone in Broome street, he jumped on its back and and rode away. Later Policeman Slay arrested Bryan in a maidlin condition. Justice Patterson told him this morning, in the Essex Market Court, that in Colorado he would be hanged for the crime of horse stealing, but in New York he would only be fined $10. Manager Gilmore is a tall, thin, gray-aired man fifty years not drunk. his watch and money were gone. Detective Bur-leigh, of the Charles street squad, found the watch this morning in the pocket of Daniel Allen, Grabe-dunkel's clerk, who was held for trial at the Jeffer-son Market Court to-day.

MR. JESSE DE GROFF TELLS A HARROW-ING TALE OF ASSAULT.

He Followed His Wife, He Says, to Justice the Street and Pounded-The Justice's Version Different from Mr. De Groff's-

Yery Serious Charges Made by Both Men. Jersey City has a sensation to talk over today, the result of the arrest of Justice Henry Crossman this morning on a charge assault and battery made by Jesse De Groff, a well-known Newark avenue merchant, The arrest is the outcome of a scandal concerning three of the most highly connected families on Jersey City Heights, and the result will probably be two divorce suits, one of which has already been commenced. Jesse De Groff in his complaint against Justice Crossman says that he called on the latter at his home on Court House place, Wednesday night to follow his wife, who was at the house, and to accuse the Justice of was at the house, and to accuse the Justice of undue intimacy with her during her frequent visits at his home. He says that Crossman followed him to the street and struck him repeatedly in the face with some sharp instrument. He procured a warrant from Justice Aldridge last night.

Justice Crossman, when arrested, declared that Mrs. De Groff's visits were professional, as the way preserving to preserving the preserved.

that Mrs. De Groff's visits were professional, as she was preparing to prosecute her husband for alleged cruel treatment. He then stated that De Groff had been unduly intimate with Mrs. Carrie E. Wills, who is now suing for a divorce from her husband, Henry E. Wills, a prominent young lawyer, before Chancellor McGill. Justice Crossman says that he can produce five witnesses who saw the couple together at a Union Hill resort on Sunday, Aug. 14.

The Justice's version of the whole scandalous complication is that Mrs. Wille's suit for freedom is brought about by her desire to join De Groff, and that the latter's alleged cruel treatment of his wife has been designed as a provocation for divorce. Mrs. De Groff had been disposed to realize her husband's ideas by a suit, and had been in consultation with him for some time realize her husband's ideas by a suit, and had been in consultation with him for some time preparing for such a step.

De Groff's accusation of criminal intimacy, the justice says, is utterly false. He states that the course De Groff has taken has decided in his mind his own course—that of exposing the whole of the scandal which he promised to make more spicy in the near latters. has not been strengthened by the loss of the State, and there are thousands of Republicans who believe that Platt is very selfish in his Republicanism. He continues his bossism over the Republican majority in the Senate and holds on to the office future.

Mrs. De Groff's suit is now a certainty, and with both this and the Well's suit in progress at once Jersey City's bump of gossip is likely to be considerably enlarged.

It is said that Lawyer Wells has found plenty of news in Justice Crossman's story and that he will oppose his wife's suit with consequent energy. future.

consequent energy.

Jesse De Groff was not at his store on Newark avenue, this morning, and could not be found by The Wolld reporter.

UNFORTUNATE ROSA M'GEE. Robbed of Her Money and Ticket at the Outset of Her Trip to Ireland. [SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] NEWARK, Nov. 25 .- Rosa McGee, a young Irish woman, told the police at headquarters last night that she had been robbed of a tin box containing all the money she possessed and a ticket to Ireland. The girl had lived as a servant in Germantown, Pa., and, having saved money enough, was going on a visit to her native soil. She stopped in Newark to visit some friends and went to the station last night with the box to board the train. She left the box on a seat and turned to look at the placards. When the train arrived the box was gone.

The box was stamped on the inside with the name of Ellen Conners. The police will lican leaders, with both characters and reputations to lose, are asked to enter a conspiracy to keep Thomas C. Platt and his henchman, Dr. William M. Smith, in office five or six years after their terms have expired. The State Senate cannot afford to impose this fly-blown scandal upon the Republican party. It would be treason to their constituents for Republican leaders to abet or sanction it.

Does any Republican retain any shadow of allegiance to Platt because he supposes that Platt is loyal to the Republican party? No greater mistake could be made. Platt's districted that the could be made. Platt's districted that is loyal to the Republican party? No greater mistake could be made. Platt's districted to avaricous to hang himself while the thirty pleces of sliver last. The Republican party must do the hanging, and there will be room on the gallows for those Republicans who might be leaders, but prefer to be bosslets under Platt. endeavor to secure her passage to the other

Knights of Labor Co-operative Factory.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
WILKESBARRE, Nov. 25.—The Knights of Labor of this vicinity have undertaken to establish a cooperative shoe factory at Ashley, and so far have operative shoe factory at Ashley, and so far have met with great success. A company has been formed with $2,000 capital, in $10 shares, and all held by Knights of Labor. A building has been erected and the plant and machinery of the Eastern Shoe Factory have been purchased. The following are the officers of the company: W. P. King, of Luzerne Borough, President; P. F. Caffrey, of Sugar Notch, Secretary, and M. L. Dooley, Ashley, Treasurer and Superintendent. They he twenty-two men at work and are overstocked worders, some coming from as far as Northumbland County and Onlo.

Dynamite in a Philadelphia Ash Heap

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25. -A patrolman found in an ash hesp on Cambria street yesterday eight nches of ordinary lead pipe with both ends neatly plugged with wood and fitted with a fuse. Near by were two small tin boxes, each about an Inch and a half square, with no seams visible. An effort was made to open one of them, when it ex-ployed, blowing the box into small pleces. The police are leaving no stone unturned to discover the owner of the property.

have been saved: Henry Kenyon, Gustav Bromonsky, Hermann Huseler, Gustav Will, Guseppe de Bertolini, Peter Jemchowski, Max Becker, Janos Pechemje, Janos Takase, Johann Gund, Andreas Altka, Hermann Mr. and Mrs. George Could Westward Bound.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
PITTSBURG, Nov. 25.—George Gould and wife were in the city this morning en route to the Pacific Coast. He looks for a continuance of business prosperity and places no reliance in the stringent oney scare. The financial pelicy of the Administration is commended by financeers with whom he is associated. The Missouri Pacific road, of which he is acting President, is doing increased business, and, notwithstanding enlargement of capacity, if is unable to take care of its business.

Confidence of Oil Men in the Shut-Down.

nonth the daily output of oil has been leasened 20,000 barrels. With this curtailment, burdensome stocks are being reduced at the rate of 1,500,000 barrels per month. This shut-down movement has inspired confidence throughout the oil regions that the Producers' Association can regulate the production of Pennsylvania and New York petroleum, so that the world will pay a fair price for it.

She Is Nellie Cooks No Longer.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.]
LYONS, Nov. 25.—Nellie Cooke, who recently made a canvass for School Commissioner in this lowed by light rains.

New Jersey and Delaware, fair weather, fil-in and snow is predicted in all other States.

[SPECIAL TO THE WORLD.] BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 25.—Since the first of this rob Predicts Wet Weather.

Washington Nov. 25.

Indications for toemtsfour hours, beginning at 3 r. M.:

For Connections,
teeather, por

